More information about Solid GPS and their tracker unit...

Solid GPS is a Melbourne based company started by two brothers in 2018. Being motorcycle and car owners themselves they wanted a simple GPS tracker they could use to protect their vehicles. Through a number of iterations, the brothers designed the Solid GPS unit, with vehicle owners in mind - focusing on what customers actually wanted.

Key features of the Solid GPS tracker unit...

- The Solid GPS tracker is incredibly easy to use, taking about 5 minutes to set up.
- It comes pre-installed with a 4G Telstra SIM Card ready to go.
- A single charge lasts around 6 to 12 months, depending on usage.
- It is rechargeable and easy to install because there's no wiring involved.
- Alerts you when your bike leaves your home, work or anywhere you want.
- Has Australian customer service that'll respond quickly to any issues.

There's also an app and browser dashboard with some great features - the obvious one is being able to see where your bike / car / caravan is, you can also set how far your bike / car moves before receiving an alert, and the ability to increase how frequently it tracks plus much more. More details can be found on the Solid GPS FAQ webpage.

If you want to know more, the VMC recently published a review of the tracker unit - you can read the blog post here.

Any questions regarding the Solid GPS tracker unit or the subscription plans should be submitted directly to Solid GPS via their help page or their Facebook page.
